Developed with Glen Dimplex Home Appliances

Title: Belling gas inlet connector elbows

Date issued: 20th June 2023

This Safety Alert provides guidance to Gas Safe Registered businesses/engineers about a product safety concern related to gas hob inlet connector elbows installed in holiday caravans, lodges, and residential park homes

Introduction

Gas Safe Register has been advised by the manufacturer of an issue regarding gas inlet connector elbows fitted to some Belling gas hobs manufactured after May 2019. This issue only concerns the models detailed in the table below installed in holiday caravans, lodges, and residential park homes.

Safety Concern

Belling have identified a potential issue with the silver gas inlet elbow connector on some gas hobs breaking when installed in holiday caravans, lodges, and park homes. If the inlet elbow is as shown in Figure 1, then the elbow must be replaced.

Corrective Actions

To eliminate this issue, the silver gas connector (if as described above) must be changed as outlined in figure 2 below. This can be either another elbow or a straight coupling, depending on pipe configuration
